

Łukasz Koliński, Director for Green Energy Transition and Energy System Integration, European Commission

Łukasz Koliński is Director for Green Energy Transition and Energy System Integration at the Directorate-General for Energy of the European Commission. He was previously Head of Unit for Renewables and Energy System Integration Policy, following his tenure as Head of Unit for economic analysis and financial instruments within the same DG. Until 2018, he served as Special Adviser on Energy Union to Donald Tusk, President of the European Council and previously advised his predecessor, Herman Van Rompuy. Between 2005 and 2012, Mr Koliński worked for the European Commission following experience in the private sector. He holds a master's degree in economics from Warsaw School of Economics, and a diploma in European studies.